Driving Directions from Tours / Saint Pierre Des Corps

Map showing D751 from Saint Pierre Des Corps running along the south bank of the Loire river....

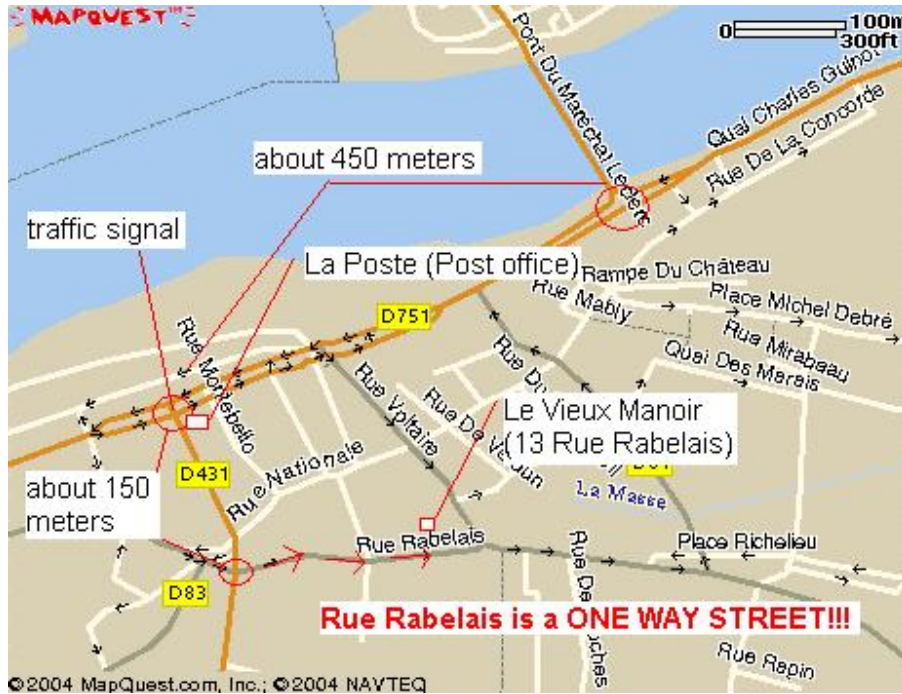

Although you can reach Amboise from both sides of the Loire river, the best route is to take D751 on the south side of the Loire from St. Pierre Des Corps all the way to Amboise.

Map showing D751 leading into Amboise.....

Next page shows detail in Amboise, to Le Vieux Manoir on Rue Rabelais.....

If you are coming from the direction of Saint Pierre Des Corps....

Make a right onto Ave. des Martyrs (D431) which is the second signal as you come in to town - but the entrance to the street is deceptively small and street markings difficult to notice. As a landmark, there is a statue on the left side of the D751, in front of Ave. Des Martyrs. Once on Ave. des Martyrs keep on the sharp lookout for Rue Rabelais, only about another 150 meters away, the second small street on the left. We are located at 13 Rue Rabelais which is the second gated entrance on the left, just past the signal.

If you are coming from the direction of the Chateau....

Once on the Chateau (south) side of the river, from the front of the Chateau it is approximately 450 meters to Ave. des Martyrs (D431 on this map), but the entrance to the street is deceptively small and street markings difficult to notice: Ave. des Martyrs is a quick left turn at the 1st streetlight, just after La Poste (Post office building) on the south side of the street. Once on Ave. des Martyrs keep on the sharp lookout for Rue Rabelais, only about another 150 meters away, the second small street on the left. We are located at 13 Rue Rabelais which is the second gated entrance on the left, just past the signal.
